Dear Harold,

As always, it was great to get your letter. My reaction was to hit the ceiling (again) about the suppression of your story and Garrison's flash. It is so DAMN annoying to realize there are things afoot that people like me WANT to know about and are missing out on. What can one do? Nothing, I suppose, or you'd have done it!

However, Harold, the day will have to come when all those items cannot be whitewashed any longer . . . and I just hope I'm around to thumb my nose at the "suppressors."

Would you believe I STILL haven't received OINO??????? Is it possible that that whole shipment is still stuck in some PO? How about the rest of your mailing list - have you checked with any of the would-be recipients to see if their copy was delivered? Certainly a mailing early in November should have arrived by now!

I used one of your suggestions on my term paper (passed in last night), and set out to prove that LHO's chances of NOT being where the Commission said he was during the two murders were very good. I footnoted it copiously . . . and in my 11-item bibliography, three were Weisberg books! I have not yet submitted my "baseball buff" essay to any publication; but hope to get on the ball one of these days and send it along to somebody. I figure a rejection slip is better than not trying!

Things are revving up for the glorious holiday season, getting "commercialer and commercialer" all the time. We've had no snow to speak of . . . but understand your area really blizzarded a couple of weeks ago. Give my best to Lillian - and keep me posted!

Sincerely,
